Wanamaker's

Weather—Fair today and tomorrow.

To Get to WANAMAKER'S

"How easy it is to get to Wanamaker's"—said a woman a day or two ago. "You just get on the Subway, and you're there." And her point of view can be that of every man or woman living between Flatbush avenue and the Bronx or Kingsbridge—if they stop to think of it. Sixty odd miles of track, with nearly sixty stations, each of them a front door to these two spacious store buildings!

Then, if the Subway isn't handy—and a better wet-weather friend there never was—you have

2.—The Broadway Surface Cars—with their three ramifications.

3.—The Madison and Fourth Avenue Cars

4.—The Eighth Street Cars

—all of which bring you from uptown, from downtown, from Westchester, Connecticut, Brooklyn, New Jersey, directly to the door of WANAMAKER'S, and, by transfer, from all the principal ferries that come to New York.

Within a few steps of the store there are—

5.—The Second Avenue Surface Cars

6.—The Third Avenue Surface Cars

7.—The Third Avenue Elevated

—which tap another great expanse of territory.

SEVEN distinct lines of transportation, counting the three Broadway lines as one.

Truly, it is "easy to get to WANAMAKER'S"—and so well worth while.
